FOUND

We have found a way to re-surface old floors and make them look like polished oak.

The new surface can be any color desired regardless of what it was before, and is equal to genuine oak in wearing and washing quality.

It is easy to apply and the cost is very low.

Come in and see if you can tell which is Chi-Namel and which is REAL OAK.

Hahn-Day Wedding.

The State Journal of Saturday gives the following account of the Hahn-Day wedding.

At the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hahn, 2406 K street, the marriage of Miss Beryl Bernice Hahn and David William Day of North Platte took place at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, the ceremony being performed by Dean J. J. Bowker of North Platte. The house was beautifully decorated in pink and green. Before the ceremony Oscar Schavland gave a short program. Chopin's prelude in C minor, and Schumann's "Rustle of Spring." During the entrance of the first half of the bridal party Mr. Schavland played the nocturne from "Midsummer Night's Dream" and for the last half Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride party entered as follows: R. Cochran and E. Broeker, North Platte, ushers; Dean J. J. Bowker; the groom and best man, Robert R. Hahn; P. Ayers, Tonia Safford, ushers; Miss Elva Day, maid of honor; Imelinda Rose Silber and Sidney Silber, jr., ring bearer and flower boy; Misses Hilda Chovina, Bertha Madison, Rose Wilson and Christine Madison, bridesmaids; the bride and her father. After reaching the bottom of the staircase the rest of the party formed an aisle through which the bride and groom proceeded to the altar where they knelt on white satin pillows during the ring ceremony. The bride's gown was of lace from her mother's wedding gown over a foundation of white silk mesh-line and was trimmed in pearls. She carried white roses and wore a long veil. The maid of honor was dressed in yellow tulle with blue chiffon over drape and carried yellow roses. The bridesmaids wore net over pink silk, net over cream silk, and cream silk. After the ceremony refreshments were served by Misses Florence and Sara Acott. The bride and groom left last night for Lake Okiboji where they will spend two weeks after which they will be at home at North Platte. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Day, R. Cochran, E. Broeker, Miss Elva Day, Miss Dulcie Frater, Dean Bowker and Mrs. M. V. Mitchell of North Platte and Clarence Day of Weeping Water.

The groom was born and raised in this city, is a steady, industrious young man, of happy disposition and entertaining manner, who is popular with young and old; successful in business and a favorite in social circles.

The bride spent several years here, being associated with the local school of music and later instructor of a large class in piano. She is a finished musician, an agreeable young lady and by her pleasant ways has made many friends among the local people.

Stenography and Bookkeeping

The Stepping Stones to Good Business Positions

Your Services Will be in Demand if You are a Graduate of the

Queen City Business College

There is a bigger demand for Stenographers and bookkeepers than there has been in years. There is a reason for this—the United States is a large commercial nation and it is growing greater every day. In this day the big business houses are demanding expert help, and they are paying for it too. The QUEEN CITY BUSINESS COLLEGE is the QUALITY school of Nebraska. When high-grade help is needed business men turn to the Queen City Business College because they know that the expert force of teachers employed by this school are practical men and women with years of expert experience in the accounting rooms, in courts, and other technical lines of business, and are, therefore, qualified to turn out the best stenographers and bookkeepers possible.

Only Able to Fill Half of the Calls Made on Us.

The prestige of the Queen City Business College is reaching out to every nook and corner of the central states, thus making it necessary for us to increase our enrollment over last year threefold. We could not fill more than 50 per cent of the calls made upon us for stenographers, book keepers, office people, etc., this last year, and we are making this appeal to you through the columns of this paper asking you to write us for further information about the opportunities offered in the business world at the present time, and what the Queen City Business College can do for you.

Where to Take a Shorthand and Business Course.

If you were going to be a doctor, you would go to a regular medical school. You would not think of going to a school that taught fifteen to twenty other courses. If you wanted to be a lawyer, you would go to a law school. SPECIALISTS in all lines of work come from technical schools. You only get an education once, and this education means a success for life or a failure for life. THEN WEIGH WELL YOUR JUDGMENT before you cast your lot with a school that has as many special courses as it has teachers.

The Queen City Business College is a technical school where those who wish to become specialists in shorthand and bookkeeping have every advantage to make a success of the work. The courses at the Q. C. B. C. stand for more than this. The training received here will not only enable you to fill the most exacting positions, but go to higher places of trust and responsibility.

You should have a catalogue and other literature of this school because it will tell you just what is necessary to get a good position. Send for our literature today. Address,
